Golf School

(Boys and Girls Ages 11-18)

*June 9-13 and
June 15-19, 2009*

The goal of the Coaches Purdue Golf School is to expose serious young golfers to collegiate golf through interaction with top coaches and players, and to prepare them through instruction, academic enhancement, and goal setting.

The Coaches Purdue Golf School offers two sessions of expert golf instruction and fun this summer on the campus of Purdue University, located in West Lafayette, Indiana. Purdue University has a beautiful campus, with some of the best golf facilities in the country.

So come join us for what promises to be a great school. We will provide outstanding coaching and facilities in a serious, but fun learning environment.

Curriculum

Our curriculum again this year will include “academic enhancement.” This is a series of evening seminars on study skills, time management, stress management, and preparing academically for college golf. Daily, students will be completing station rotations that cover every phase of the game. Topics such as fitness, tournament preparation, course strategy, rules, equipment, and psychology are also covered. Students will also participate in competitive intramural and recreational activities. Everyone will take home a school notebook, which will include the week’s written notes on instruction, analysis of swing and equipment, and drill recommendations for future improvement.

Coach Devon Brouse, the golf school’s director, heads a highly motivated instructional staff consisting of other PGA professionals and top college coaches. Their expert instruction is exceeded only by their willingness and desire to help junior players develop and refine their skills.

The tuition includes all room and board, instruction, and use of the range and course. Each student will take home a golf school shirt and hat. A non-refundable deposit of $595 must be included with your registration form. The balance of $595 is due May 1, 2009. A $200 per person Team Incentive is available if three or more members from the same team register for the same session. The coach’s name must appear on the registration form and the forms must be returned together in order to qualify for the team incentive. Purdue University is not responsible for costs incurred due to cancellation.

Facilities and Lodging

All instruction and play will be at Purdue’s Birck Boilermaker Golf Complex, a 36-hole layout that includes the Pete Dye-designed Kampen Course and the Ackerman Hills Course, which hosted the 2008 Men’s NCAA championship. Purdue’s complex also includes an incredible practice facility. In October, 2005, the new $2.7 million indoor golf training center opened, giving Purdue one of the finest golf facilities of any university in the nation. The Kampen Course has hosted the 2003 women’s NCAA, the 2000 western boys junior, the 2005 “Big 10” tournament, and the 2008 NCAA men’s championship.

Coach Hardwick, Virginia Tech

Pat Goss, Northwestern University

Students will be housed in one of Purdue’s air-conditioned residence halls, within walking distance of the golf course. Students do not need to bring sheets or towels, but do need to bring toiletries. Our facilities are outstanding and supervision is provided 24 hours a day. Rooms are furnished for double occupancy only. Roommates may be requested, but requests must be mutual.

Students traveling by air can fly into Indianapolis International Airport, which is a one hour drive from Purdue’s campus. Arrive the morning of the first day and schedule last day departures for after 4 p.m. Camp registration begins at 11 a.m. and orientation starts promptly at 1 p.m. Transportation is available between the airport and campus.

Quotes about the Coaches Golf School

“The best junior golf school in the nation. This school is a superb opportunity for any young, serious golfer to improve and to learn what golf at the college level is all about.” – Coach Fred Warren, East Tennessee State University

“Three members of my son’s high school team attended the Coaches Golf School and I feel your camp was a major contributor to their high school’s first state golf championship.” – Parent

“My son won the Peninsula Championship and he actually commented he never would have won without using concentration techniques he learned at golf school, because he was really nervous!” – Parent, from Smyrna, Delaware

“I knew his game would improve with a week of concentrated instruction, but I never dreamed it would improve this much. Your emphasis on the need for good academics has definitely had a positive effect on his motivation to do well in high school.”
– Parent

“My son attended the Coaches Golf School in 2005. I have to say his game really took off after the week he spent at the Coaches Golf School. He just finished his sophomore season and was team MVP, first team all-conference, district qualifier, and overall a more rounded player. Thank-you to you and your staff!!!” – Parent, from Grafton, Ohio

School Director

Devon Brouse is in his eleventh year as the director of golf and men’s and women’s head golf coach at Purdue University. This is Coach Brouse’s thirty-first year as the director of the Coaches Golf School, formerly held at North Carolina, where he was head men’s golf coach for 20 years. Coach Brouse is a class “A” PGA member and has instructed at over 70 golf schools.

In the summer of 1998, Coach Brouse returned to his alma mater, Purdue, to coach the men’s and women’s golf programs and build them to national prominence. “Purdue’s dedication to their golf programs, along with the $10 million rebuilding of the Birck Boilermaker Golf Complex on campus is what lured me back to Purdue.”

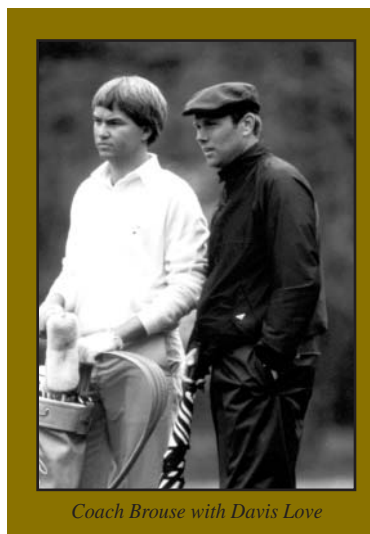

While at North Carolina, Brouse was named district coach of the year in 1990-91 and 1994-1995. He has coached 24 All-Americans named on 39 different occasions, and coached three Walker Cup members. In 2000 and 2006, he was named Big Ten women’s golf coach of the year. Also in 2006, Brouse was named national Coach of the year as well as receiving the PGA Labron Harris Award. His men’s team finished seventh in the 2002 NCAA and fifteenth in 2004.

Andrew Sapp,
University of Michigan

John Cleary,
Northern Illinois University

“At the Coaches Purdue Golf School, swing fundamentals are not the only emphasis,” says Brouse. “We believe that strong values and attitudes are needed for young people to grow and improve in the game of golf. The academic enhancement seminars will help prepare our students for college, and the interaction with top coaches is an excellent preview of college golf, as well as contact for proper placement.”
