WOODS AND SHIN FROM WAKE FOREST SURGE BACK TO CAPTURE INAUGURAL TITLE

DAHLONEGA, Georgia (August 5, 2010) – A surge over the final four holes propelled the team of Cheyenne Woods and Michelle Shin from Wake Forest to a two shot victory in the inaugural Hooters Women's Collegiate Team Championship presented by the National Golf Coaches Association at Achasta, By Reynolds.

Woods walked to the 15th tee with her team down two shots, but the junior rolled in an eagle putt, while her teammate made a birdie, finally catching the pair of Brooke Pancake and Jennifer Kirby from Alabama as the two groups made their way to the 16th hole tied at 13-under-par.

"The whole day I really wasn't making any putts," Woods said after the final round. "Going into No. 15 I had a great putt for eagle and fortunately I made it and that really gave us some momentum going down the stretch."

Shin and Woods then dialed in the putter and drained birdies on 16 and 17 respectively, while Alabama's Pancake saw a three foot birdie putt lip out on the par 3 17th hole to send her team to the 18th down by two strokes where Woods/Shin captured the championship at 15-under-par.

"My strategy was just to be consistent coming in down the stretch," Shin said. "I didn't want to make any big mistakes and those two late birdies helped a lot."

Alabama's Pancake and Kirby, who led from wire-to-wire were awarded the runner-up award, finishing the tournament at 13-under-par, while Stetson's Alexandria Buelow and Lauren Cate carded a final round two-under-par to finish third overall.

Virginia's Brittany Altimore and Elizabeth Brightwell entered the final round at 10-under-par, but a 3-over-par final round placed the pair in sole possession of fourth place, while Florida's Jessica Yadloczky and Evan Jensen moved up on the final day to round out the top five at 5-under-par for the championship.

Ashland University's Annie Miles and Erin Misheff ran away with the NCAA Division II low score of the championship, finishing 16th overall at 4-over-par, while Katie Schenfeld and Taylor Drenttel from Gustavus Adolphus University edged out Katie Maurer and Catherine Wagner from Wisconsin Eau Claire by one shot to capture the DIII/NAIA championship.
